Most Revolting Accident Possible to Imagine.

Nine Little School Girls Smothered in a Vault of Fifth.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 23.—School closed today at Pleasant Ridge, seven miles north of Cincinnati, with the first quarter of the session, when nine, possibly ten, school girls were suffocated in a vault during the forenoon recess, and over a score of others narrowly escaped the same horrible death. When recess was given about thirty of the smaller girls were in the out-house assigned to them, when suddenly the floor gave way, precipitating them into a vault of fifth. The vault is twelve feet deep and walled up with stone like a well. There was four feet of water or slush, that would have been over the heads of the girls falling in it singly, but those falling first filled the vault partly so that others were not entirely submerged.

Trampled Down.

The girls fell eight feet from the flooring before striking the fifth, and the struggles of those who were on top kept at least eight underneath until they were dead.

The frame shell over these vaults were about twenty feet square, without windows, and only one narrow doorway, so that only one little girl escaped from the door. She ran into the school building and told the teachers what had happened. The teachers were soon reinforced by the entire population of the town, the police and fire departments rendering most efficient service. Those able to climb out on the ladders themselves were rescued by Principal Zimmerman, who finally faint. Then others went into the vault and kept bringing dead bodies from the fifth until the vault was cleared. The firemen drained the vault so as to be sure the rescue was complete.

Sickening Sight.

Those engaged in the rescue work recited the most ghastly experiences. Even those rescued alive presented such an appearance as to make many in the crowd of spectators faint, but the sight within the vault beggared all description.

The children who were on top of the writing heap were rescued first. While they were getting out of the vault their feet crowded relentlessly down on others who were meeting with a most agonizing death in the fifth. It was noticed that the elder ones were on top and rescued.

There are twenty-three persons confined in the county. Of this number the cases of twelve will be investigated by the grand jury, three are serving jail sentences, four have appealed, and four are under indictment and will be tried at this term.

The grand jury was made up and instructed yesterday and the petit jurors will be selected today. Following is a list of the grand jurors:

E. W. C. Edwards, foreman; J. D. Wilkins, W. A. Rickman, Geo. D. Simpson, Geo. C. Simpson, Geo. Hayes, John Kelley, John B. Harned, Geo. McKnight, John H. Sergeant and W. H. Hubbard.

Mr. Joo H. Morgan, electrician of the Home Telephone Co., left today to El Paso, Texas. He has obtained a position there to secure a change of climate on account of his wife's health.

TOBACCO MEN MEET

And Organize to Fight the Great Trust.

Congressmen Stanley and James, of Kentucky, and Congressman Gaines, of Tennessee, see, Make Speeches.

Guthrie, Ky., Sept. 24.—Five thousand farmers, representing sixteen Tennessee and Kentucky dark tobacco growing counties, met here today to organize against the tobacco trust and in behalf of better prices for the weed. Chas. H. Fort, of Robinson county, Tennessee, president of the Clarksville District Tobacco Growers Association, presided.

He explained the purposes of the meeting and stated that the last crop of dark tobacco was produced at a cost of six cents per pound, $9,000,000 on the crop, and sold at an average of four cents per pound, $6,750,000, as a result of the trusts.

The following committee on plan of organization, one member from each county represented at the meeting, was upon motion of S. A. Chapman, of Nashville, appointed, with F. G. Ewing, of Robinson county, as chairman:

Tennessee—Stewart county, W. B. Hall; Robinson, F. G. Edwards; Montgomery, Polk, Prince; Cheatam, J. E. Hodges, Ohio, D. C. Reeves; Houston, John Sargent; Dickson, Marshall Cunningham; Kentucky—Crittenden county, A. B. Carden; Trigg, T. E. Crenshaw; Todd, Frank Walton; Christian, J. D. and J. Simpson; J. R. Claypool; Wesley, R. E. Holiday; Caldwell, J. H. McConnell; Graves, John Palmer; Logan, Henry Thurman.

While this committee was out speeches were made by the Hon. Jos. B. Fort, of Robinson county, Tennessee; Congressman Olie James, of the First Kentucky district, and Congressman John Wesley Gaines, of the Sixth Tennessee district, each of whom explained the operations of the tobacco trusts.

Congressman Gaines offered a resolution providing that "whereas the existence of a tobacco trust is apparent to the tobacco growers, in convention assembled, said trusts being operated in open violation of the law, and to the great detriment of tobacco growers; be it resolved, that the several United States district judges, in Tennessee or Kentucky, be urged to charge their grand juries to investigate these trusts."

This resolution was adopted unanimously. The committee on plan of organization here reported recommending that the name of the organization be the Clarksville Dark District Tobacco Planters' Association.

The object is to assist each member in grading and selling his tobacco. The government is vested in a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer, who shall be ex-officio members of the executive committee. This board shall have power to make and amend the by-laws and transact all business not delegated to committees. There shall be an executive committee consisting of one representative from each dark tobacco county, who shall be the chairman of their county organization. The executive committee shall investigate the prices and the best markets for selling tobacco. To sell to the best advantage the tobacco crops of all members, either in the barn, warehouse or to brokers. The committee shall have general supervision over the tobacco of all members, and inspect same, if necessary to prevent fraud; to sell to such persons or corporations as may be deemed best, the proceeds to go direct to the owner of the tobacco. No salaries are to be paid any members and these rules shall not be operative until 70 per cent of the crop has been secured. This report was adopted unanimously.

After, speeches by Congressman A. O. Stanley, of the Second Kentucky district, and ex-Gov. Benton Ophthalmoscope and Retinoscope - Combined.

An up-to-date instrument for the diagnosis of the pathological condition of the interior of the eye without the use of a dark room or mydriatics to dilate the pupil. By its use all errors of refraction are detected and measured to an absolute certainty, without asking the patient any questions—thereby leaving the operator independent of the intelligence of the patient (Great for children). It is the latest and most wonderful production of optical science. By its use the retina (veins and arteries), is seen as clearly as the patient's face. This is a costly instrument, but as I have been always deeply interested, and made a specialty of examining and fitting of glasses to the eye. I have kept up to-date with the latest and best methods and instruments and feel that the best is none too good for my patrons. They may rest assured that they will get the latest and best service obtainable anywhere—derived from long years of practical experience with up-to-date appliances and for the least money. Everybody's for October.
The picturesque personality of Thomas W. Lawson is well to the fore in the October issue of Everybody's Magazine. Not satisfied with the allowance of space given to his "Frenzied Finance," in the body of the magazine, he has burst the bonds of editorial convention and appropriated several pages in the advertising section, part of which he uses to reply to the scores of letters and inquiries which his remarkable articles have brought him. He deals with his critics in much the same spirit he handles the financiers—without gloves. Incidentally the October issue of Everybody's is 550,000; the issue of September was 425,000, and a second edition had to be printed.

The October installment of "Frenzied Finance" is devoted to John Edward O'Sullivan Addicks, through whom Mr. Lawson first encountered Standard Oil and H. H.
Rogers. There is nothing mild or conventional about his description of the Delaware statesman. It is a terrific and ruthless indictment of the man and his methods, supported by specific details and incidents, and set forth with the same vivid art which characterized the study of H. H. Rogers in an earlier number. The description of Addicks's capture of Boston and its gas companies is one of the most grimly humorous and entertaining pictures
Mr. Lawson has yet given.

Otherwise, Everybody's is as timely and entertaining as ever.
The several articles are all about topics decidedly before the public at the moment. The flying machine contest is on at St. Louis, and we have here "Flying Up to Date"—a simple statement of the problems which Langley, Santos Dumont, Maxim, and Prof. Bell are striving to solve.

Lindsay Denison describes how
"The Fight for the 'Doubtful State' is conducted. Paul Severing tells of the great chess champion, now battling for supremacy at the World's Fair.

In the harvest month it is interesting to see and read "Harvesting the World Over," by Will Irwin, of course plentifully illustrated.

There are eight short stories besides a vital installment of Hall Caine's "Prodegal Son," which grows more powerful as the plot develops.

pestering diseases of the skin. Put Water Cure for Love.

Sterling, Ill., Sept. 19.—Thrift, elopement, return, a ducking for bride and bridegroom, and then separation. Such is the history of the romance of John Mitchell and Miss Mamie Stanley, 17 and 16 years old respectively, gypsies from rival bands that have been in camp here. A gilded wagon figured in their dream of love, and to buy it the boy took $900 of his father's money. The couple fled to southern Illinois, where they were married. Returning, there was a violent scene. The young people were taken to Green River and ducked, their parents assisting.
Then the bride and bridegroom were made to agree henceforth not to call each other husband and wife.

Sprains.
S. A. Read, Cisco, Texas, writes:
"My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

Two Girls Elope.
And Each is Wedded to the Man of Her Choice.
Smith's Grove, Ky., Sept. 20.—
Mr. W. M. Bohannon, a progressive young farmer of near town, and Miss Stella Hendrick, a daughter of J. A. Hendrick, a wealthy tobacco dealer of this city, eloped under difficulties to Gallatin, Tenn., and were married.

G. H. DeVrazer, of Georgetown, and Miss Jennie Holman, a pretty sixteen year old daughter of John Holman, of Little Sulphur Well, eloped to Lafayette, Penn., where the nuptial knot was tied. Both are prominent families.

Abcesses.
W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment.
I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abcess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's store, (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment;
I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

Abcesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility. They may, however, result from blows or from foreign bodies, introduced into the skin or flesh, such as splinters, thorns, etc. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

Parker and Family.
The crowning souvenir of the National campaign will be issued free with the Sunday Post-Dispatch as a special art supplement Sunday, October 9th. It will be a group picture of Judge Alton B.
Parker and his family. These pictures are made by a new process, and are distinctly different in every way from anything issued heretofore by the Sunday Post-Dispatch.
The pictures are on heavy paper, printed in colors, ready to frame.
The supply will be limited. In order that all who wish these pictures may be supplied, it will be necessary to order in advance from the local Post-Dispatch agents so he may place his order for this issue in time.

Neglected Colds.
Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to diseases and blights from neglected

Paul Laurence Dunbar, the celebrated negro poet, is critically ill.

Let us hope that a political Herickgang may strike the State of New York about Nov. 8.

The Mayfield Messenger is revealing in the fact of the incident to 57 announcements of candidates for county offices in Graves county.

Uncle Henry Davis opened his "campaign" in West Virginia last week. Here's hoping that Uncle Henry may keep on opening things.

Hunter has given up the fight in the Eleventh district. He says he was robbed by the federal office holding gang after fairly beating Edwards. Edwards filed his certificate at Frankfort in person.

Prof. W. N. M. Kee, principal of Pleasant View school, Montgomery county, Tenn., has been suspended from the ministry for six months "for cruelty towards and abandonment of his wife." He will appeal to Conference at Gallatin.

A rumor prevails in Berlin that Dr. Theodore Lewald, Germany's Imperial Commissioner, is to be the World's Fair, has become "secretly engaged to" Miss Alice Roosevelt, and Berlin bookstores are selling their pictures taken together.

Dr. Hunter now says that he proposes to contest the nomination of D. C. Edwards for Congress. A suit in the courts, a contest before the State Central Committee or a bolt are the three alternatives open to the Gum Shoe statesman.

Tom Watson, Populist candidate for President, arrived at Houston, Texas, unexpectedly the other night and entered a hack to be taken to a hotel. Before starting, the colored driver asked him to make room for another passenger and ushered in a negro woman as his seat mate. Watson promptly got out and struck the driver with his fist. He should have given him a chance to explain. In all probability the driver mistook him for President Roosevelt.

A DRAMATIC SCENE.

Reverend Murderer Offers a Fervent Prayer in Court.

The Case of the McClennan County Preacher is Called at Calhoun.

Calhoun, Ky., Sept. 25.—The case of the W. W. Armer, charged with the murder of his son, Marvin, last May, one of the most noted cases ever recorded in this section, will be called in the Calhoun circuit court today. The trial was set for yesterday, but the defense was not ready and begged for an extension of time, and the court named today, when it is said, all parties will be ready to enter trial. Heretofore it was generally conceded by the people that a death sentence awaited him, but since the heartrending scene that was witnessed in the court room Wednesday, when the prisoner was brought in it is doubtful if he is convicted, as a great deal of public sentiment has been raised in the prisoner's favor.

The family of the Rev. Armer was in the court room when he was led to the bar of justice. He kissed and cried over his wife and children and hugged his little babe, who had been born since his imprisonment, and which he had never seen, to his bosom. With tears falling fast he pressed the little body to his face and then knelt and prayed for forgiveness of his own sins, for the court and for the people. It is said there was not one in the house that was not moved by this action, and the court room was full of anxious people. At the conclusion of the prayer Armer returned to jail to appear today for trial. His family will be near him all during the trial, and his brother is present, and says he will do all he can for his release, but asks nothing but justice at the end of the law.

After this prayer had been offered Commonwealth's Attorney Ringo stated that there would be no chance to convict him, as he could not ask the jury to hang him under the circumstances in view of what will almost certainly be the proof.

It is a most remarkable case, and is being watched with interest by people from far and near. The Rev. Armer has been preaching the gospel for many years, but it is said the murder of his son was in cold blood.

The latest information from the East is that Gen. Higgins, in command of the rear guard of Gen. Coothead has retreated beyond the range of Gen. Parker's guns, and to avoid a flanking movement led by Gen. Herrickman has decided to abandon Liao York and make a final stand at I Pass. It is believed that by Nov. 8 Gen. Parker will have possession of Manhattan, Manchewia and the man who does the chewing.

Pension Commissioner Ware has aroused unfavorable criticism by placing over the door to the Pension Department the motto, "The Lord hates a liar." Fortunately for the pension grabbers, the Lord does not pass on their applications.

A Louisville saloon-keeper has had Editor R. W. Knott and one of his reporters arrested on a warrant charging criminal libel, on account of a write-up given his place of business in the Post. The light blows indicate that Knott knew what he was doing.

The Louisville Herald took a three column head to display the announcement that a train with Roosevelt aboard was 36 minutes late. Merely one of the hot boxes Teddy will encounter from now till November.

RECORD BEATER

Was Arcadia's Business During Past Few Months.

The season at Dawson Springs has been the best of any within the history of that place. The Arcadia hotel has been taxed to its full capacity for six months and there are still about forty guests at that popular hostelry. The Arcadia is open for guests both summer and winter, however, and there is always a crowd. Mr. Holeman, a few days ago, informed a KENTUCKIAN representative that his business during the summer was much larger than last year, the latter being the banner year up to the record.

HOWELL NOTES.

Picked Up By "A Straggler," Representing the Kentuckian.

Howell, Ky., Sept. 26.—The farmers in this neighborhood have about all finished housing tobacco. The crop this year, while not nearly so large as usual, is of a much better quality and the farmers are confident of realizing a good price for it.

The protracted meeting, which has been in progress since last Sunday at Olivet church, near here, is still going on and much good is being derived from it. It will probably close Wednesday or Thursday night, but may continue throughout the week. The pastor, Rev. H. C. McGill, is being assisted in the meeting by Rev. Staley, of Morganfield, who assisted in the meeting here last year, and who is a very able and forcible preacher. There have already been nineteen conversions and twelve additions to the church, and many more are expected before the meeting closes.

The political situation in this neighborhood is warming up some and from present indications, if Howell precinct will "cut any ice," Teddy will be snowed under so deep that he will never remember of having the pleasure of dining with Booker in the White House again after next November.

Mrs. Olney Wilson, of Pembroke, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Keatts, and attended the meeting.

Henry Henpeck

Registers a kick on Making an Unsuccessful Attempt to Call the Doctor at Two a. m. Over the Automatic Telephone--Baby Has the Colic.

"Wife call the cook to hold the baby, while you hold the lamp and I get that blasted telephone number—Those Cumberland operators used to know our physician and all I had to do was to go in the dark, if necessary, to the telephone and say: 'I want the doctor,' and I had him in a jiffy—But this dang automatic, cow-less butter concern takes the whole family, a telephone book, lamp thrown in, to say nothing of having to be a first rate pianist to operate those buttons and wheels so that you may grad out your desired connection."

—there—Mary Pepper Henpeck you've bobbed down the lamp and I've shoved down the wrong number and the weary grind must commence again. And, Mary, by the way you once here me, you must clobber that kid, for how can you expect a man to collect his thoughts sufficiently to figure out how many punches must be made to get this number, when a brat is yelling at his ear—it would be hard enough to read Greek, let alone work this—Say, was it 10892 or 10882? Gimme that hook again—What! Why you had it jst ten minutes ago—Can't find it! Well, I'll be cooked for a sinner—Oh giving out of the lamp; good heavens! where is that hook? Was ever a blameless man so—Say cook there's no need of upsetting that wardrobe again, for even if we did find that book, we'd have to wind up that 'Ideal automatic soul-loser'. So, you just run over to 19th Street, (it is just thirteen blocks) and tell Dr.

Blank to hustle over here and make up for lost time, for the baby has had six spasms, and we have but a pint of paragonic in the house—now rush.

And I say wife, get me up by daylight for I've important business down there on Ninth Street, where the Cumberland Telephone Company has its head-quarters, in a stone building that is a pride to the city—For they sell the only comprehensive telephone service to be had, and that too for the same price you have to pay for this always winding musicless music-box. Besides we need the money too bad to be paying for a toy, when it's a telephone we need, instead of an adding machine. Yes, Mary, I realize that I may be a bit excited, but a mild man though I be, it's too much to ask that I suffer one of your whims to not only rob us of our safe-guard and companion (the Cumberland), but to add insult to injury by putting off on us this thrashing machine that requires that the public do the work without being on the pay-roll. Why you know well enough that the old Cumberland was a family friend that served as faithfully from being an alarm clock to calling the family to prayers, to say nothing of acting the latch string to all our friends and acquaintances, and just as soon as day-light comes, you can bet your last penny that the old Cum—Why, hello cook; how did you get back so soon? Just stepped over to the Latham and called the doctor over the Cumberland?

Well, I do declare, you are a sensible girl—and, by the way the Latham is carrying out its well established record of not having anything but the best, for it was only the Cumberland for the reason that it serves everybody to the vast possible advantage, both locally and over long distance.

Now, wife, you and Jane give the baby the rest of that paragonic and sit up for the doctor, but I must go back to bed, for I am not going to lose any more sleep and run the risk of being a minute late getting around to the Cumberland office. Besides, I am in a hurry to notify that gang of self-styled rescuers who have tried in vain to demonstrate that the citizens of Hopkinsville need rescuing, that I, Henry Joseph Henpeck, won't have their 'loop-the-loop' of telephonic moans—And say, they better not try their old gag of leaving their fancy furniture pinned to my wall and try to get me to take their pill again because of a little sugar coating of free service. No sirree, my days of enjoying a hoop-rolling contest are over, and, if that box a Carrie Nation hatchet that darn that tack.

I don't know which is the onerous an upturned tack in a bare footed man's path, or a so-called independent Telephone Company that sinks the people's money and does nothing but double the people's burdens, adding nothing but trouble during its short and useless life.

VESEVIVUS IS ACTIVE.

Magnificent Eruption of Hot Ashes and Fire Makes Spectacle for Thousands.

Naples, Sept. 23.—Vesuvius is gradually becoming more active. The crust around the crater has broken away and produces magnificent flurries of red hot ashes and sparks of fire, which rise occasionally in immense columns to a height of 700 feet, accompanied by loud detonations and slight earthquakes.

The eruption tonight was the most spectacular witnessed in the last ten years. A great stream of lava was discharged, threatening wide destruction. The spectacle was witnessed by thousands of awe-stricken persons.

CRAP GAME

Caused the Killing of Dave Bullard Sunday.

John Fleming Shot Him Dead
at Spring Hill. Near Nev-erly. No Arrest.

Meager details have been received of a killing at Spring Hill, near Beverly, Sunday afternoon. While some negroes were engaged in a game of craps, a difficulty arose between John Fleming and Dave Bullard, which ended by Fleming's drawing a pistol and shooting Bullard dead. Fleming had not been arrested yesterday and has probably skipped over the Tennessee line. He is a son of Beverly Fleming, who lives near Garrettsburg. Coroner Allenworth went to the scene yesterday to hold an inquest. The result has not been reported.

HEAD-END COLLISION

On Southern Railroad Snuffs Out
Sixty-Two Lives.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 25.—East bound passenger train from Knoxville to Salisbury, leaving here at 9:35 yesterday morning, and west bound passenger train from Bristol to Knoxville, due to arrive here at 10 o'clock, collided about one mile west of Newmarket about 10 o'clock. Forty-nine people were killed outright and six died on the train enroute here. The death list has grown tonight to 62, and it will probably exceed 70 before Tuesday. The injured are in a

TEMPERATURE
at this institution.

A force of 150 men toiled all day long at the scene of the wreck, before 2 o'clock Sunday morning the track was clear for through trains but it required many hours to clear the debris. Engineers Parrott and Kane were found beneath the engines but their bodies were not crushed badly. Small fragments of bodies were found but it is thought that they belong to bodies already found and brought to this city. One little baby was found by the wreckers but that was all.

The cause of the terrible loss of life in the heavy east-bound train was explained today. It seems that the second coach ploughed its way into a bank in such a manner that the other cars were jammed into it, and pushed on by the heavy weight of the Pullmans, were crushed like egg shells.

Physicians at the hospital state tonight that of the long list of injured which they have in their care it is probable that not more than four will die. The complete list of injured, as given out by the railroad officials, showed a total of 162, but this includes all persons who were only slightly hurt or scratched.

KILLING FROST

A summary of the character of weather for October, as figured out by Hicks and published in Word and Works, follows:

The storm period in progress at the close of September will be felt the first two days of this month in the eastern parts of the country while the high barometer and change to fair and colder weather will have advanced eastward beyond the central valley of the Mississippi.

On and touching the 4th and 5th look for return of higher temperature, falling barometer and more falling weather. All these October disturbances will wind up with rising barometer, change of wind to northwesterly, and much cooler weather.

The first regular storm period proper for October is central on the 11th, and extends from the 8th to the 17th. Expect very warm weather for the season, followed by rain and wind. Within forty-eight hours of noon on the 8th, seismic disturbances in many parts of the earth need not cause surprise.

The next storm period will be central on the 16th, 17th and 18th. This is a Vulcan reactionary period and it will bring on a disturbed weather condition that will run, most probably, into the regular storm period following.

During the regular Vulcan period central on the 22nd the already unsettled elements will return to very decided storm conditions. From about the 21st to the 24th general and active autumnal storms may be expected. A very depressed barometer will advance from the west, attended by storms first of rain and probable thunder, followed by early spurts of snow and sleet in northern extremes. Heavy northwesterly gales will visit the great lakes and the north Atlantic coasts at this time, and a general and decided change to colder will spread over most parts of the country with the anti-storm area that follows this period. The culminating crisis of this period will fall on and touching Monday the 24th. On and about this date will be also another period when earthquake shivers will be reported from different quarters of the globe. Look for frost well to the southward, with some freezing to the north at the end of and for some days following this period.

The last period of disturbance in October, blending with Mercury equinox, is central on the 27th and 28th. At this time look for a reaction to warmer, with falling barometer and return of rain and thick cloudiness and mist, amounting to sleet in many sections northward.

The month will go out with anti-storm areas spreading eastward from the west northwest causing general change to much cooler.

REUNION ENDS.

Earlington, Ky., Sept. 22.—Col. Bennett H. Young made a speech this afternoon at the Confederate reunion, and at its close started a description that resulted in raising a monument to the Confederate dead in Hopkins county. Mrs. Pierce, of Madisonville, widow of Captain James Pierce, who raised the first Confederate company in this section at the beginning of the war, was made custodian of the fund.

Breakfast and a barbecued dinner and burgoo were served the veterans and a large number of visitors at Lakeside Park today, and the reunion ended this afternoon. A parade, in which all the veterans and many guests and citizens took part was one of the features of today's program. The Earlington military company, under command of Capt. Pierce, acted as escort. The line was halted at various points, including the Mayor's residence, and rousing cheers given city officials and business men who had worked for the success of the reunion. The veterans had a glorious time, and the only regret heard expressed by the people of Earlington, Madisonville and Morton's Gap is there were not more of them to take part. There were 300 veterans and 1,500 citizens and visitors at the park today.

Against Their Union.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The Knoxville Presbyterian church has voted against the proposition to unite the Presbyterian and the Cumberland Presbyterian churches. The negro question played a prominent part in the vote, the attitude of the Presbyterian church not being sufficiently clear on that subject.

Chattanooga Presbytery of the same church also voted negatively on the proposition.

Thus far twenty-two Presbyteries of the Cumberland church have voted on the union proposition, seventeen voting for and five against it. Tennessee is the home of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the fact that two of the largest Presbyteries have voted in opposition to union in the past two days is significant.

Union Presbytery of the Northern Assembly today voted unanimously in favor of union.

HOWARD DIDN'T SPEAK.

Populist Orator Struck Cold Trail and Lost the Scent.

Hon. M. W. Howard, the former Alabama Congressman, did not speak here Saturday night as announced. He found no crowd and only one man on hand who had ever been a Populist. This was Attorney G. W. Southall, who told him in Base Ball parlance that he had jumped his former contract with the Populists and had signed with the Democrats and was trying to help Parker make a home run. After talking the situation over with Mr. Southall, Mr. Howard concluded that it was not worth while to advocate the election of Watson and Tibbles in this locality.

It is understood that Mr. Southall could have had the nomination for Congress again but preferred to let somebody else have it this time.

Member of the Business Men's League and one of the best known business men in St. Louis, Mo. Read what Mr. Wand has to say about Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure:
"I know what it is to be afflicted with backache and I sympathize with those who suffer. After suffering serious and long-continued pain of this kind and procuring I decided that if Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure could not relieve me of these troubles I at least would not do me any harm and I procured a bottle.
"Now the first bottle didn't stop those wearing backache, but it did afford me great relief. The second bottle, however, did effectually put a stop to those racking backaches. Occasionally they returned when strenuous business affairs exhausted the physical force, but a dose or two of Dr. Fenner's Cure gave instant relief."

PASSENGERS LEAVE HATS.
 Quite a Number Walk Out of Elevated Cars Without Their Head Covers.

"Your hat" said a young woman to her young man escort, as the two were walking down the aisle of an elevated car to get off at their station. It was a hot day and as they went in the car the young man had taken his hat off and laid it on a vacant seat beside him, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. When they got up to go he had forgotten all about it.

"Many people walk off and leave their hats" another passenger asked of the guard, this being a light run on which there was no chance for the guard to say a word. "A good many in the course of a year," was the reply. "In the case of the young man now who just passed out with the young lady, he may have forgotten his hat because he was thinking of her, but the next man might put his hat down and get to reading his newspaper, and forget all about the hat. Maybe he'd never dismount, he'd left his hat behind him till he'd get down to the street."

"Couldn't the guard remind him as he passed out, seeing him with out his hat? Well, no, he couldn't very well. The guard has two gates to look out for, and passengers to get on and off, and some people walk on or off holding their hats in their hands, to keep cool, and you could not very well suspect every passenger that passed by without his hat on to see if he wasn't carrying it down by his side. So really his hat is some thing that every man must take care of for himself."

"It isn't straw hats alone that we gather up," the guard continued, after the next station had been passed. "In the course of a year we get soft hats and derbies, a few silk hats, and some cheap hats. All these kinds of hats come along, naturally, more in winter. You've seen men often enough fall asleep and their hats fall off? That's how we get 'em."

"The children's hats are easy to account for. They take them off themselves and drop 'em and never think of 'em again. It isn't quite so easy to account for the women's hats left behind, but some are left and so in the course of a year, mixed in with the cold weather hats and the great quantities of things left in the cars by the millions of people that travel in them, we get a considerable bunch of hats, in cluding hats of all sorts."

THE OLD-TIME SWEATBOX.
 Chamber Into Which Suspects Were Cast to Make Them Confess Crimes.

The medieval torture chamber still exists, if we may judge from the reports as to the "sweatbox" and the "third degree." What the concealed infamy of the last may be it is difficult to learn, says American Medicine. The "sweat box" is a method of confining suspects in heated air until the torture becomes so irritating as to elicit almost any confession desired, especially when coupled with cunning questions and promises of the prosecutors. But where is the boasted trial by jury and by his fellows of the Anglo-Saxon love of justice? It has been supposed, wrongly it seems, that a man is held to be innocent until his crime has been proved by order and just trial. Punishment should not, therefore, begin until after conviction. The poor degenerates at best are poor matches for the subtle and unscrupulous questions without the added perplexity resulting from torture. Why not reverse the rack and screw, and be done with them quicker and without trial? Will some one tell the simple truth about the abuses of the so-called examinations of prisoners before trial? What exactly is the proceeding in the "third degree" torture business? By what law are such things allowed, and what have the judges and lawyers been about to permit such barbaric anachronisms in the twentieth century?

VOICE STRANGE TO OWNER
 Never Sounds Exactly the Same as It Does to the One Who Is Spoken To.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature of Paris. Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that everyone hears his own voice differently from others."

"As is remarked by Prof. Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of the tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by the air alone."

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it from time to time to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality."

EARN LIVING BY SMOKING.
 Paris Firms Employ Hundreds of Men to Color Meerschaum Pipes.

"With the growth of the hobby of smoking meerschaum pipes," said the Harpendore, of Harpendore, according to the Louisville Herald, "there have sprung up concerns which make a business of coloring these pipes.
 "How do they do it? Well, in the most natural way imaginable, by smoking them. In Paris there are two firms which employ about a thousand men to do nothing but smoke. They are paid 20 cents an hour. They smoke mild tobacco in order that they can smoke a great length of time without getting a headache.
 "I have seen these men at work. They are acquiescent. Some of them are persons of high educational attainments, who, being out of employment, do not object to sitting in a cool spot, reading and smoking. It is a snap for them.
 "Here are others of these hired smokers are ignorant fellows, who never achieved success in anything but smoking.
 "A few women are in the gathering, but they are all sorry looking wretches.
 "Some of the smokers are diseased. Many of them have consumption. But this does not endanger the person who buys the meerschaum pipe later on, for the pipes are boiled and baked to eliminate all germs.
 "The officials in Paris are trying to break up this business, claiming that it endangers the health of the hirelings."

Snowproof Ponies.
 Dr. J. C. Ewart, in discussing the problem of the origin of horses, describes as one of the most distinct kinds now living the Celtic ponies, which are found in the most northern parts of Iceland. They reach a height of only four feet, and are so abundantly furnished with hair that in winter storms they are practically snowproof. Dr. Ewart observed the conduct of one of these ponies during a snowstorm. As soon as the storm began she turned her hind quarters to it, and in a short time the snow had formed a sort of shield or disk upon the long hair growing about the roots of the tail. Thus protected the pony did not shift her position while the storm lasted, except to turn with a change of the wind. — Youth's Companion.

There are some magnificent mothers in the world to whom maternity gives an added charm, a greater strength. But how few these mothers when compared with the multitude of women who are robbed of charm, weakened and broken down by the burdens of maternity. Motherhood is the highest function of women, and nature meant it to confer the highest joy. Maternity has an entirely new meaning to those for whom it was once only another word for suffering, when they have been made well and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the ailments from which many women suffer. It encourages the appetite, tranquilizes the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It increases the strength and gives great muscular elasticity, making the baby's advent practically painless.

"I had indignation so bad last winter, while expecting to become a mother," writes Mrs. T. H. Timmich, of Yorkville, Ill. (Box 159), "that I could not eat anything without it distressing me terribly. I took five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and went through with much comfort, and when baby came had nothing to suffer as compared with other times. It must be known that my case was a very remarkable one, not being over-strong and having had four children within less than three years. I was so weak and run-down I could hardly drag around. You may judge how well I am now, being left entirely alone with five children, of whom the oldest is four years, and can do all my work. I am happy, indeed, for I love children and do not care how many I have if I can be well."

NEWS OF DEATH.

Hancock M. Johnston, Son of Gen. A. S. Johnston, Passed Away.

News has been received from Los Angeles of the death of Hancock M. Johnston, only surviving son of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston. Mr. Johnston was a man of strong character and wide influence. At one time he was very wealthy, owning together with his uncle, Dr. John S.

Griffin, several thousand acres of fine California land, including the site of Pasadena. He laid off and developed East Los Angeles. About twenty years ago much of his wealth was swept away, and for the past fifteen years he has been an invalid. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Mary Katon, and three grown sons, Albert Sidney, John Griffin and Hancock M. Johnston, Jr.

LAX-FOS For the Kidney's, Liver and Stomach.

In Memory of Mrs. Julia Wallace
Death, who knocks with equal hand at the door of the cottage and the palace gate, has been busy at his appointed work. Mourning prevails throughout our circle and we are shrouded in the mantle of regret, for the remorseless march of the tomb has taken Mrs. Julia Wallace, and all who knew her join in a common sorrow. Her action together into a detailed account of the services rendered by her to the church of her choice. Suffice it to say that with unchanged industry and undeviating devotion, she continued to pour forth her energy in the sacred cause she espoused. Always at her post, she encouraged others to work and strive for better things.

Godness forms no shield to ward off the arrow of death. Could it have availed, even when joined with the prayers of friends and relatives, then indeed this mournful occasion would never have occurred, and the life of our friend would have been spared to lighter our pathway. Yet, though she has passed from among us, still has she left behind her better part, the legacy of her bright example, the memory of her deeds. Our friend has gone down to her grave peacefully and quietly, to become once more the companion of that mother she nursed so devotedly in this life. She has but left the friends of earth to be gathered to the arms of those in Heaven. Calm and quiet will she rest over the river in the quiet city, where the flowers grow and the free songs of the uncaged birds, and all that speaks of peace is gathered around. Her epitaph is engraved upon the hearts of those who loved her. M. H. W.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and help digest what you have eaten. See Mrs. William M. Stroud, Moline, Texas, writes, May 31, 1904: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and find it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, biliousness and malaria. Sold by R. C. Hardwick."

The Entire Crop.

At a conference between W. B. Hawkins, President of the Kentucky Tobacco Growers' Association, and officers of the Louisville Leaf Tobacco Exchange, an agreement was reached by which Louisville tobacco warehouses will produce and handle the entire 1904 crop of burley tobacco grown in Kentucky.

MOTHER'S PROFESSORSHIP.

Obliged to Be Accomplished in Many Things to Help Her Children.

Since it has become the fashion for rich men to endow chairs in universities, almost every kind of professorship has become the recipient of such attention. The greatest of them all, however, has been overlooked, and still has only its natural endowment drawing its salary in "love and affection," as the old deeds say. In an article on the women of America the Outlook tells of one occupant of this worthy academic chair.

In a bookstore in a little town in Wisconsin a stranger heard a woman asking for a book for a child dealing with plant life, a copy of Eugene Field's "Love Songs of Childhood," and a very interesting book, three things which to her disappointment the store did not contain.

"I do so want the things," she said, sadly. "I live 45 miles out of town, and as my husband had to come in to-day I arranged to come with him and get them for the child."

"I suppose they need them for school?" said the visitor.

"For their lessons at any rate," the woman corrected. "They don't go to school. We live too far away for them to walk, and the horses cannot be spared to take them back and forth every day. I teach them myself."

"You do?"

"Yes, I feel that I am perfectly capable. I was a teacher before my marriage, and had the regular normal training."

"But how do you find time?"

"It isn't always easy. A farmer's wife—my husband is a farmer—is a busy person. But my children must have schooling. I am glad to be able to give it to them. Her two little girls were seven and nine years old, respectively. "They are quite absorbed in nature study just now," she said, "and I did so want a book about plant-life."

The stranger, who was waiting for a train, volunteered to send the books on from Minneapolis, and the offer was gratefully accepted. Then the mother told more about her little school.

"We have half of our lessons in the morning," she said, "after breakfast is over, and the house in order and the little girls have washed the dishes. After dinner, at noon—we have the other half. I do not keep a servant, so, besides teaching the children to read and write, I must also teach them to be my helpers about the house. You see," she concluded, "with a smile, 'I am obliged to be a professor of things in general.'"

CUT DIAMONDS BY THE TON

The World's Supply Estimated by Experts at Twenty-Five Tons.

It is estimated that the total world production of diamonds up to date approximates $5,000,000 carats, states the Chicago Chronicle. According to the system used by those who weigh their diamonds in ton quantities, the result would be in the neighborhood of 29 or 25 tons of sparklers now appearing as factors in the joys and miseries of a world which has substituted diamonds for the beads and the wampum of its ancestors.

The region contributing to this supply and the percentage of their contribution appear as follows: South Africa, 81.5 per cent.; Brazil, 18 per cent., and the remaining 0.5 per cent. divided among Buenos Aires, New South Wales and British Guiana, with North America and Russia supplying specimens. The last two of these countries have furnished just about enough to equip an opera box for a single evening. The deep obligation of society to South Africa is fully apparent.

The price of diamonds has been heavily advanced during the last year or two, but it is simply appalling to think what the price would have been without the South African supply. Society—American, English and continental—should daily thank heaven for Kimberley and Jagersfontein.

A WAY OPEN.

Many a Hopkinsville Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptics. Scores of Hopkinsville people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Hopkinsville. Read this case if given by a citizen:

Mrs. W. H. Robb, wife of W. H. Robb, machinist, employe at Forbes & Co.'s watch works and residing at 1023 High street, says: "I hardly knew for months what it was to be free from an aching back and the irregular action of the kidneys caused at the same time other symptoms which were distressing and oftentimes exasperating. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and the symptoms which it was claimed it would cure seemed so much like mine that I had my husband to get a box for me at Thomas & Frazer's drug store. I found that they gave me almost immediate relief and continued taking them for some time. They did me more good than all the kidney medicine I had ever taken put together, and the results of the treatment justify me in subscribing my name to a hearty endorsement of this pill."
